

A child is a curly, dimpled lunatic.

-- Ralph Waldo Emerson

Children and drunks always speak the truth.
-- Proverb

There are three ways to get something done: do it yourself, employ someone, or forbid your children to do it.

-- Monta Crane

Children need love, especially when they do not deserve it.

-- Harold Hulbert

Television has changed the American child from an irresistible force to an immovable object.

-- Laurence J. Peter

*Children are natural mimics:
they act like their parents in spite of every attempt to teach them good manners.*

*Little girl's definition of conscience:
"Something that makes you tell your mother before your brother or sister does."*

*Children seldom misquote you.
In fact, they usually repeat word for word
what you shouldn't have said.*

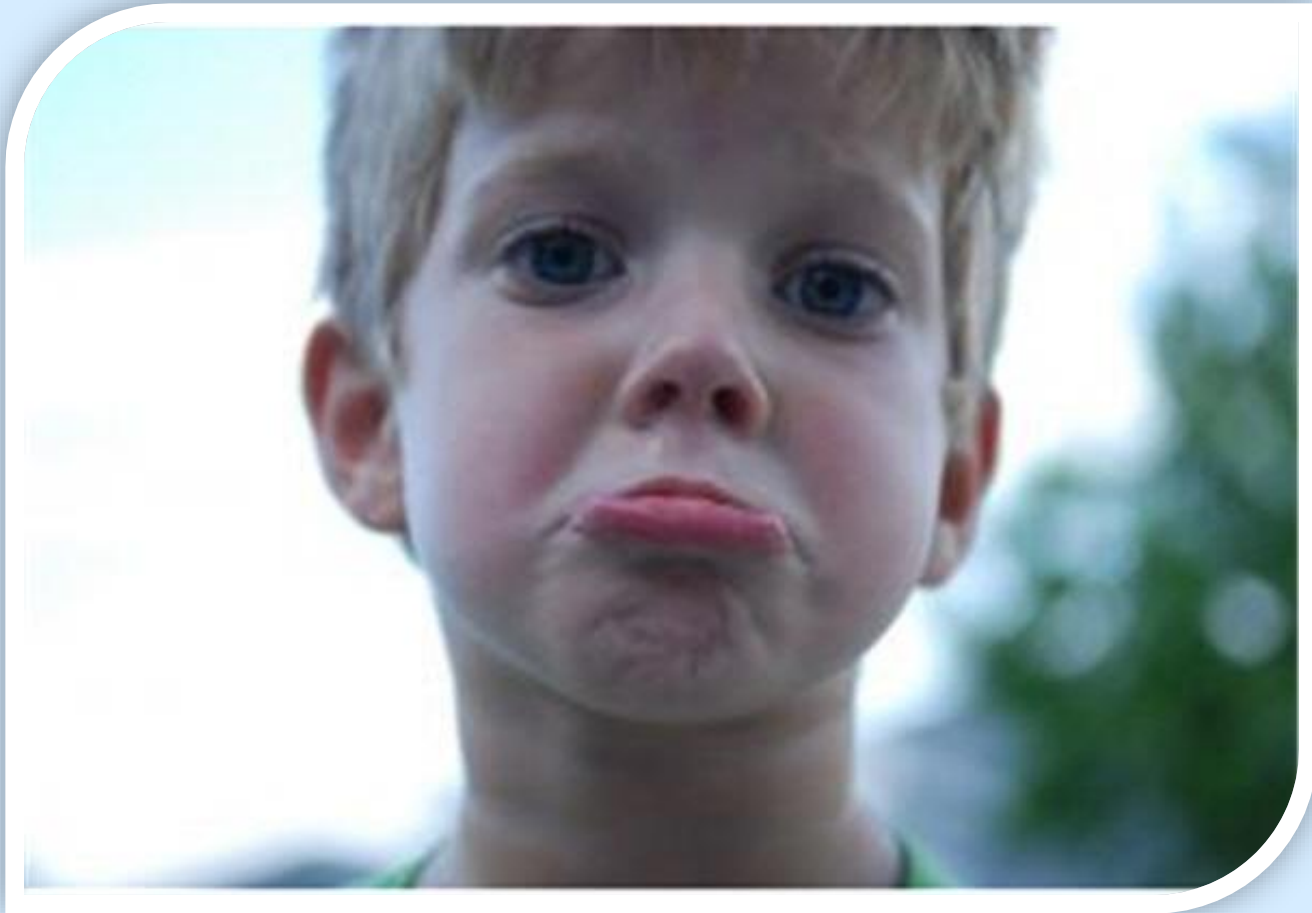

*Of all the animals,
the boy is the most unmanageable.*

-- Plato

Anyone who thinks the art of conversation is dead ought to tell a child to go to bed.

-- Robert Gallagher

Children have never been very good at listening to their elders, but they have never failed to imitate them.

-- James Baldwin

Children enjoy the present because they have neither a past nor a future.

-- Jean De La Bruyere, French Writer

