

HAPPINESS

It's never too late to have a happy childhood.

~Berke Breathed

We tend to forget that happiness doesn't come as a result of getting something we don't have, but rather of recognizing and appreciating what we do have

~ Frederick Keonig

Happiness often sneaks in through a door you didn't know you left open.

~John Barrymore

Happiness makes up in height for what it lacks in length.

~Nathaniel Hawthorne

Most folks are about as happy as they make up their minds to be.

~Abraham Lincoln

We tend to forget that happiness doesn't come as a result of getting something we don't have, but rather of recognizing and appreciating what we do have.

~Frederick Keonig

We are seldom happy with what we now have, but would go to pieces if we lost any part of it.

~Mignon McLaughlin, "The Neurotic's Notebook"

Jumping for joy is good exercise.

~Author Unknown

You cannot always have happiness, but you can always give happiness.

~Author Unknown

Now and then it's good to pause in our pursuit of happiness
...and just be happy!

~Robert Brault
